Dear Mr. Weisberg

You are one of the few researchers who responds positively to letters of inquiry.

I now write, as part of a full-length study of Marguerite Claverie Oswald, to respectfully request your help in learning more about her.

1. Did you two [ever] correspond? Can I please have some samples? [payment for reprints and postage for all items sent will be gladly re-incurred, with a check drawn on an active U.S. account.]

2. Did you two ever do any independent investigations together? If so, please inform me of their nature and details.

3. Did Marguerite Oswald ever request your help? If so, on what matter(s)? What were you able to provide her?

4. At the time, 1963-1965, what did you think of her claims, for example Lee Oswald was a government agent and his "so-called" defection

5. What do you now think of her claims?
6. Did Marguerite Oswald make any contribution (s)?
7. In what way (s) did Marguerite Oswald hinder/help your research or the future field of assassination research?
8. What were the real reasons Marguerite Oswald sued Mark Lane?
9. Was there something about Marguerite Oswald that made [almost] everyone eventually turn against her?
10. Marguerite Oswald became very suspicious in her last years. Did you maintain contact with her? Until when? Who broke off the relationship?
11. How would you characterize your relationship with Marguerite Oswald?
12. Was Marguerite Oswald always paranoid? or in any way psychotic?
13. Did Marguerite Oswald have any sense of humor?

Please know that all assistance you provide will be most valued.

Very truly,

Dr. R. Feldberg
